Vote Ticket Straight Says Chairman Graves

CHAIRMAN GRAVES OF STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
WRITES COUNTY CHAIR-MAN W. U. ACREE.

Says No Man Considered Democratic Elector Who Is Not Loyal to His Party.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 29, 1914.
Hon. W. U. Acree,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee of Houston county, Ala.

Dothan, Ala.

Dear Sir:

It surprises me very much to learn from you that Mr. Butler has bolted and is running independent against the Democratic nominee for Sheriff of Houston county.

Surely he must have forgotten the rules of the primary in which he participated not only as a voter but as a candidate. Those rules provide:

"Only white Democratic electors who are qualified under the State laws, shall be allowed to participate; and no voter shall be considered a Democratic elector, within the meaning of this resolution, who is not loyal to the Democratic party and its principles; and who will not support all of the nominees of this primary, county, state and national; nor unless he shall have voted for the Democratic electors and all of the Democratic nominees in the general election held November 5th, 1912, or would have voted for all of said Democratic nominees had he voted in said election."

"It shall be the express duty of every manager of the election and the privilege of every Democratic elector qualified to participate in said primary, to challenge every person offering to vote in said primary who shall not be qualified in accordance with the provisions of this resolution."

Polk List.

"Every person who offers to vote in said primary shall thereby authorize the managers of said election to sign the name of such voter to the poll list, which shall contain the following caption:

"We, the Democrats of _____ precinct, No. _____ of county, holding a primary on this, the 6th day of April, 1914, do hereby pledge ourselves each to the other and to our fellow Democrats throughout the State, that we are Democrats and voted for Democratic electors in the election held November 5th, 1912, and for all other Democratic nominees voted for in said county at said election, or would have so voted at said election, and we further pledge our loyalty to the Democratic party and its principles, and to vote for the election of all the nominees of this primary."

These rules are still the law of the Democratic party in Alabama. You observe no voter shall be considered a DEMOCRATIC ELECTOR who is not LOYAL to the Democratic party, and who will not support ALL the nominees, etc.

This is no more than common right. Any man that goes into a primary is morally bound to abide the result. And if he fails to do so, he has no right to expect to be trusted next time.

I also call your attention to the pledge at the top of each poll list.
Every man that participated in that primary had the clerks of election to sign his name to that pledge, which reads:

"We _____ do hereby pledge ourselves each to the other, and to our fellow Democrats throughout the State that we are Democrats—And we further pledge our loyalty to the Democratic party and its principles, and to vote for the election of all the nominees in this primary."

All these rules are to make every man "play fair." If there was any wrong in the primary every candidate had ample opportunity to make it right by contest or appeal.

So to say the least of it, every man that participated in that primary, besides his solemn pledge, entered into a gentleman's agreement, that he is in honor, bound to live up to. And I am sure that the voters of Houston will do the square thing, stand by their pledge and vote the ticket straight.

Sincerely,

BIRD GRAVES.

Chairman, Democratic State Executive Committee of Alabama.

Until he is out of a job, steady work may seem like something out of a calamity.

PRES. WILSON ASKS NATION TO GIVE THANKS ON NOV. 26

Washington, Oct. 29.—President Wilson Thursday issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 26, as Thanksgiving Day.

The President's proclamation, which refers to the fact that the United States is at peace while the rest of the world is at war, follows:

"By the President of the United States of America—a proclamation.
"It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us, as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving, has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war, and of change, which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

"It has been vouchsafed to us to remain at peace, with honor, and in some part to succor the suffering and supply the needs of those who are in want. We have been privileged by our own peace and self control in some degree to steady the counsel and shape the hopes and purposes of a day of fear and distress. Our people have looked upon their own life as a nation with a deeper comprehension, fuller realization of their responsibilities, as well as of their blessings, and a keener sense of the moral and practical significance of what their part among the nations of the world may come to be.

"The hurtful effects of foreign war in their own industrial and commercial affairs have made them feel the more fully and see the more clearly their mutual interdependence upon one another, and have stirred them to a helpful cooperation, such as they have seldom practiced before. They have been quickened by a great moral stimulation. Their unmistakable ardor for peace, their earnest pity and disinterested sympathy for those who are suffering, their readiness to help and to bring of the needs of others, have revealed them to themselves as well as to the world.
"Our crops will feed all who need food; the self-possession of our people amidst the most serious anxieties and difficulties and the steadiness and resourcefulness of our business men, will serve other nations as well as our own.

"The business of the country has been supplied with new instrumentalities and the commerce of the world with new channels of trade and intercourse. The Panama canal has been opened to the commerce of the nations. The two continents of America have been bound in closer ties of friendship. New instrumentalities of international trade have been created, which will be also new instrumentalities of acquaintance, intercourse and mutual service. Never before have the people of the United States been

EDUCATIONAL DAY IS THE DAY OF DAYS

Thousands of School Children March from City to the Fair Grounds.

Educational Day is the Day of Days at the first annual exhibition of the Southeast Alabama Fair Association. The city is thronged with thousands, comprising adults and children. The fair grounds were opened to the public at an early hour this morning.

From every county in the Wire-grass, people have come. A steady stream of traffic is being conducted to and from the fair grounds continuously. The success of the fair seems assured beyond peradventure.

Wednesday and Thursday were great days, but today is even greater. At 1 o'clock this afternoon, the indications are that the attendance record of yesterday will be broken today.

Saturday is Farmers' Day, and a large attendance will no doubt mark the closing day.

Pupils in Parade.

Two thousand and eighty school children and educators of the Wire-grass, forming a marching line one mile long, paraded to the fair grounds this morning where a special program for Educational Day was carried out.

In the parade first, the Dothan Boy Scouts were first, Shessey's band second, county board of education third, pupils of rural schools fourth, city board of education fifth, and the pupils of all high schools last. With the band playing patriotic airs, the parade was an inspirational spectacle.

Arriving at the fair grounds and occupying seats in the grand stand, which had been given for their exclusive use, the children sang several selections, such as "Hail, and America." The thousands who stood before the grand stand and lined the race course fence, were moved by the sentiment expressed in so many children singing in concert.

J. V. Brown, superintendent of the Dothan City Schools, assisted by Scoutmaster J. M. Roever and Prof. Tolleson and others, presided in the grand stand, which was patrolled by Boy Scouts.

The speaker for the occasion was Hon. Byrd G. Farmer, of Dothan, who in a few short but well chosen words welcomed the hosts of Young America to the Metropolis of the Wiregrass. Mr. Farmer called attention to the wonderful development along all lines in the counties that comprise this section of the State. He asked that the exhibits of the Wiregrass be compared with those from Tennessee and other States, as well as with those from North Alabama.

EVIDENCES OF MAN'S IMMORTALITY.

What one man believes or disbelieves is a matter of little moment; for belief will not put gods on High Olympus, nor unbelief extinguish the fires of Hell. Man can neither create nor uproot the actual by mental examination. If Delfy exists, he would continue to exist did a universe deny him; if he existed not, then all the faith and prayers and sacrifices of a thousand centuries will evolve him from the night of nothingness. There is or there is not a life beyond the grave regardless of the denial of every Atheist and the affirmation of every prophet. Then what boots it whether we believe or disbelieve in God's existence or man's immortality? Banish all belief in God, eliminate the idea of man's responsibility to a higher power, make him the sole lord of his life and earthly good his greatest guerdon, and you destroy the dynamics of progress, the genius of civilization. Man has a tendency to become what he believes himself to be. Consciously or unconsciously, he strives with less or greater strength toward his ideal; hence it is all-important that he consider himself an immortal rather than the pitiful sport of Time and Space; a child of Omnipotence, rather than the ephemeral emanation of unclean ooze. Had man always considered himself an animal, his tendencies would have been ever earthward; believing himself half divine, he has striven to mount above the stars. True, many great men have been Atheists; but they were formed by ancestry and environment permeated by worship of Divine power. Without a belief in his own semi-divinity to lead the race onward and upward, the conditions which produce a Voltaire or Ingenucci were impossible.

A belief in God affords man a basis upon which to build; it is an acknowledgment of authority, the chief prerequisite of order; but in Atheism there is no constructive element.

While it may be no more immoral to deny the existence of Delfy than to question the Wondrous Tale of Troy, history teaches us that, considered from a purely utilitarian standpoint, the most absurd faith is better for a nation than none; that the civic virtues do not long survive the sacrifice; that when a people desert their altars their glories soon decay. The civilization of the world has been time and again imperiled by the Spirit of denial. When Rome began to mock her gods, she found the barbarians knocking at her gates. When France deserted her priesthood and crowned a courtesan as Goddess of Reason at Notre Dame, Paris was a city of sin and the nation's chaos was a horror beyond and discarded. We have drifted into an Atheistical age, and its concomitants are selfishness, sensationalism and sham. . . .

If we adopt the internal instead of the external views of the origin of Judism and Christianity, all the other Sacred Books range themselves about the Bible and with it bear witness that man is the creature of Design and not a freak of chance.

We bring to confirm the teachings of Moses and Christ and the Zoroaster, the loving Gautama, the patient Mahomet, the priests and prophets of every clime, the altars of every age, the countless millions, who, since man's advent on this earth, have worshipped the All-in-All. If this be not basis broad enough for man's belief, add thereto the story of God's wisdom written in the stars and the never-ceasing anthem of the sea; the history of every consecrated man who has died for man, whether his name be Christ or Damien; the song of every bird and the gleam of every beauty; the eternal truth that shines in a mother's eyes, the laughter of little children and the leonine courage of creation's lord; every burning tear that has fallen on the face of the dead, and every cry of anguish that has gone up from the open grave to the throne of the Living God. Were not this "revelation" enough? Yet, 'tis but the bidding of humanity's Sacred Book, of the Universal Bible in which God speaks from the age and from hour to hour to all who have ears to hear.

The fact that man desires immortality is proof enough that he was not born to perish. 'Tis a "direct revelation" to the individual, if he will but heed it—will get out of the grime of the man-created city, with its artificialities into the God-created country, where he may hear the still small voice speaking to that subtler sense, which in animals is instinct, in man is inspiration. There is no error in ordering the universe. It was not jumbled together by force, operating in accordance with laws self-evolved from chaos, on matter which, like Mrs. Stowe's juvenile nigger, "just growd." It is the work of a master who ordereth all things well. Beauty might be torn of chance, but only Omnipotence could have decreed the adornment it inspires. Hate might spring from the womb of chaos, but love must be the child of order. Pain might be begotten of monsters, but only infinite wisdom could have invented sorrow. Nature does not put feathers on fishes, fins on birds nor give sight that lives an impossible desire or an objectless instinct. Then why should man desire immortality, why should he fear annihilation more than the fires of Hell? During a third of his life he is unconscious, and annihilation is but an ever-dreamless sleep. Whether he sleeps of health or that of death, an hour and eternity are the same to him; yet he desires the one and dreads the other. If man's fierce longing for immortal life is not to be gratified, then is the whole universe a cruel lie; its wonderful arrangement from star to flower, its careful adaptation of means to ends, the provision for the satisfaction of every sense, an arrant fraud, a colossal falsehood. If there be no God, then is creation a calamity; if there be a God and no immortality for man, then it is a crime.

God does not reveal himself to beasts, nor to men of brutish minds. How can those who have no ear for music, nor eye for beauty, hear the melody of the universe or comprehend the symmetry of the All? What need have those for immortality to whom love is only lust, charity a pander to pride, a full stomach the greatest good and gold a god? Is it these who become "motive grinders" dig genius out of the earth like spuds and goobers, and the achieve perpetual motion by making the universe self-operative machine needing neither key nor steam generator to make it go. They pride themselves, sometimes justly, on their reasoning powers; but the product of their logic-mill is like artificial flowers, as unprofitable as the icy kiss of the Venus de Medici. Of that knowledge gleaned in the Vale of Sorrow they know nothing; of that wisdom which cannot be demonstrated by the laws of logic they have no more conception than has a mole of the glories of the morning. They are of the earth earthy. To make them understand a message God would have to type-write it, add the seal of notary public and deliver it in person. They hear not the silver tones of Memnon, heed not the wondrous message that come from the dumb lips of the dead. They search through dusty tomes and explore forgotten languages to prove the rhapsodies of some old prophet false, while the grave of the babe that was buried yesterday is more than a prophecy—is an Ark of the Covenant.—Branan.

COULD YOU AFFORD TO RUN FOR OFFICE?

In the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, Herbert Quick, editor of that publication, writes an interesting article showing how difficult it is for a poor man to run for office. Following is an extract:

"What kind of men can run for these and the state offices in your state? Could you afford to be a candidate? Supposing that your neighbors wanted you to run, could you pay the bills? If you could not could any man of small means.

"If no man of small means could run, and pay his own campaign bills, how would they be paid? Who would pay them? If paid by someone else, why would they be paid? Is it likely that anyone would pay them unless he had some sort of promise from the candidate as to his action after election?

"Men do not usually put up money for the campaign expenses of others unless they have some sort of an eye to grind. They usually take a mortgage on the official acts of the candidate as security for the loan. If the expenses amount to much the salary attached to the of-fee will not enable the man elected to pay the expenses with his own money. So he must pay it in some manner out of the public's money. That is, he makes you and me pay, and generally pay ever and over again, the expenses of letting us elect him to office.

"Sometimes men with money will pay large sums to aid a candidate for public reasons, but those cases are rare. Generally such money is advanced for the most sordid reasons. And so long as public offices have their official acts mortgaged to the men who have helped them we cannot have good government."

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.
If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meats form uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the chances often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.
To neutralize these irritating acids to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then get fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

ONLY SURE CORN CURE EVER KNOWN

"GETS-IT" the New Way, 2 Drops Do It.

To endure the pains and tortures caused by a little thing like a corn is ridiculous, simply because it is unnecessary. The new plan corn cure, "GETS-IT" is the first one ever known to remove corns without fail. Without pain and without trouble.

This is why it is the biggest selling corn cure in existence today. It is now used by millions because it does away with stick tape, with plasters and cotton rings that shift their positions and press down onto the corn with salves that "raw up" the toe, with "harnesses" that cause pressure and pain, with knives, razors and files, clawing and pulling at a corn.
"GETS-IT" is applied in two seconds. Two drops applied with the glass rod do the work. Pain goes, the corn shrivels, vanishes. Accept no substitute. Try it on any corn. Wart, callus or bunion tonight.
"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.
For sale in Dothan by N. H. McCallum, W. L. Brown and M. A. Ellison Drug Co.
